Winter Honor Roll Includes 137; Nine Have Straight "A" Average

Arnold, Baggenstoss, Christiani, Dillavou, Geis, Johnson, Mitchell, Pijan, Toelle Have Highest Grade Indexes for Last Quarter

Nine students attained perfect "A" averages to lead the scholastic honor roll winter quarter. This gave an increase of three students with perfect grades over the six listed during fall quarter. Those receiving grade indexes of 3 last quarter, with total grade points, are Agnes Arnold, Fargo, N.D., 39; Mrs. Ennola Campbell Baggenstoss, Missoula, 48; Mrs. Laura M. Christiani, Sarles, N. D., 54; Harriet Louise Dillavou, Billings, 51; Barbara Jean Geis, Southern Pasadena, Calif., 51; Mrs. Teresa Beall Johnson, Harlowton, 42; Dorothy

Elizabeth Mitchell, Roundup, 33; Herbert James Pijan, Miles City, 48, and Charlotte Toelle, Missoula, 48.

Scholastic averages increased generally winter quarter in that the total includes 137 honor students as compared to the fall quarter number of 120.

A student to be eligible for the honor roll must have either a minimum of 36 grade points with an index of two, or a minimum of 30 grade points with an index of two and one-half. No student is eligible if he has an "E" or an "F" on his current record.

Here Again, Gone Again Donovan

"Haste makes waste," and if you don't believe it, just ask Phi Delt Elmer Donovan. Tuesday night both the Phi Delt and the Sigma Chi were to serenade the same sorority. Elmer stayed down town a little longer than he expected, and when he drove up in front of the sorority house, a group of boys were already there, singing.

So Elmer tore out of his car in nothing flat, zipped across the lawn and joined the group—just in time to sing the first line of the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." That streak? Oh yes, that was Elmer zooming back to his car.

By BOB WHITE

"This group is like any of the football or basketball teams that the University has sent to the coast, only this time there will be no officials to referee the game. But we know that these men will carry the Red, White, and Blue as capably as they have carried the Copper, Silver and gold."

So said Student Body President, "Scotty" MacLeod, as the United States Army inducted 78 men of Montana State University Wednesday.

Hundreds of University students were joined by townspeople and faculty members at the two Missoula railway stations to clasp the hands of the departing Army Enlisted Reservists, and junior men in the Reserve Officers Training Corps.

At a farewell convocation in the Student Union auditorium at 11 o'clock that morning brief speeches were delivered by Lieut. Col. Norman, President Melby, "Scotty" MacLeod, and "Burly" Miller. Dean Miller concluded his talk saying, "Good luck, keep your noses clean, and we'll try and have something good for you when you come back."

The program was concluded as a quiet student body sang "College Chums."

Goodbyes on the station platforms were not particularly sad; the departing boys even appeared outwardly jubilant. The departure rather resembled the send-off of a football team, but the handclaps were a little firmer, the emotions somehow were more suppressed.

As the train rolled out of the station and the last strains of "Up With Montana" died away, an occasional student brushed a tear from the corner of his eye as though he wished to remember what Colonel Norman said:

"Let's not make this goodbye. Let's just tell the boys 'so long' for awhile."

Spring Quarter Masquer Play "Personal Appearance" April 26

By LORRAINE MacKENZIE

At the request of the members of the Army Air Forces' College Training Detachment, AWS cordially invites the men of the student body to the dance Saturday night in the Gold Room. The dance is a no-date affair.

William Maloit, Elmhurst, Ill., is confined to Pine View Hospital.

Opening April 26 and continuing for five nights, "A Personal Appearance," a comedy by Lawrence Riley will be presented in the Copper Room of the Student Union, Larrae Haydon, assistant professor of dramatics, announced yesterday. A cast of 10 are rehearsing nightly for production of the play which will be given in salon style.

Aber Contest Scheduled For April 27

The annual Aber Oratorical Contest is scheduled for April 27, Ralph Y. McGinnis, assistant professor of speech, announced yesterday. Interested students are asked to see Professor McGinnis before April 23.

Contestants are required to prepare a speech not exceeding 1,600 words on any topic of their own choosing and monetary prizes, based on the excellence of the composition and the presentation of the speech, are then awarded for first, second and third places.

The Aber contest was inaugurated in 1920 in memory of Prof. William A. (Daddy) Aber who left a $1,000 trust fund, the annual interest of which is given in oratorical prizes.

"A Personal Appearance" is being sponsored by the Missoula chapter of the Junior Daughters of American Revolution, who have charge of all ticket sales. The profits will be used to buy a Berman Metal Locator, known as a bullet finder. This organization is the first in the United States to buy such an instrument and this will be the second one that they have contributed.

Cast as the feminine lead is Marianne Slack, Great Falls, as Carole Arden, a temperamental movie actress always out to get her man. With her company she stops at a small-town tourist home run by Mrs. Struthers, Barbara Holter, Helena. Her daughter, Joyce, Lorraine Thompson, Havre, is in love with a local boy, Bud, Bob Wylder, Havre. Carole sets her cap for him and schemes to get him to Hollywood with her because of a camera for recording sound which he is developing.

What Montanans Do . . . Finish Wartime Sentinel

By ALINE MOSBY
(Sentinel Editor)

A queen section, a new method of presenting graduating seniors, individual pictures of dormitory residents and honorary members, and scores of other new features will be revealed in the 1943 wartime edition of the Sentinel, scheduled for campus distribution about May 25.

This year's annual, with a curtailed budget limiting expenditures to exactly half of last year's quota, will be entirely different from any other yearbook seen on Montana's campus. First, in physical appearance, the Sentinel has been reduced to an 8½x11-inch, uncolored, 192-page book with an inexpensive, yet attractive cover. The book will not be published by the former letterpress method, or using regular "cuts," but by the new and inexpensive deep-etch off-set process whereby lithographed plates are the printing media.

Second, in actual content, the book will be divided in a manner revolutionary to the stereotyped version of college annuals. Instead of usual confusing divisions into seasons, time or other bewildering editorial inventions, the 1943 Sentinel will simply present Montana's students, and what they do.

When the reader "meets Montanans," he'll see the graduating seniors, and other classes; the women with their strictly female activities and living groups, and also in a separate division, the male element pictured in their houses and dorms and stag activities. This new method of presenting campus activities will divide co-educational projects from the extra-curricular work done by men alone, or just by women.

When the reader sees "what Montanans do," he'll view the co-educational element, the activities shared by Montana men and women, such as student government, and publications.

Army Air Forces Utilize University "Snap" Course . . .

When staff members of the physical education department announced last spring that the so-called "snap" courses of golf, tennis and fencing would be discontinued because "these sports do not fit in with the conditioning setup as outlined for the duration" some of us were more than a little puzzled.

The inference was that these courses didn't require enough physical effort to keep anyone in good shape. Never having gotten beyond the prayer, prance and profanity stage in either fencing or golf, we wouldn't know about that, but . . .

Have the powers that be in the phys ed department ever indulged in two or three sets of blistering tennis? We guarantee that two weeks of chasing all over a court with a racquet in hand will put the average college man in top condition—or kill him. A month of it streamlines even the middle-aged figure.

In recognition of the "toughening" qualities of tennis, Army Air Force officials recently announced that in their cadet physical education programs decided preference over other competitive sports—and for the very reasons that University officials voted thumbs down on its continuance.

Surely if tennis is ranked number one by air force officers because it "develops aggressiveness, stamina and an exceedingly high degree of mental and physical coordination" its reinstatement as a definite and most necessary part of the University's wartime mass training athletic program should receive consideration.

Foresters' Ball Proceeds To Benefit Local Trainees

Net proceeds from this year's Foresters' Ball, amounting to $600, will be used to provide recreation for Army Air Force trainees stationed on the campus, forestry school officials stated yesterday. When arrangements were made by the Forestry Club for this year's dance, it was decided that profits from the affair should be used to benefit men in the armed forces through the service of the U.S.O. Since then an agreement has been made with officials of that organization to use the money in the same capacity for the local training detachment.

Profits from the ball had, for the past 20 years, been put into a loan fund for juniors and seniors in the School of Forestry. Of the $5,000 on reserve at the present time, $1,500 has already been invested in War Bonds, and more of the reserve will be used similarly, Forestry Club officers said.

Students in the War . . .

Frank J. Busch, Missoula, who was commissioned a second lieutenant upon his graduation from the University in 1942, has been promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in the Army infantry. Lieut. Busch is stationed at Camp Robinson, Ark.

Vera J. Wilson '40 recently was commissioned a third officer in the WAAC. A third officer in the auxiliary is the equivalent of second lieutenant in the Army.

New Features Characterize 1943 Sentinel

A reduced candid review of the year will present a month-by-month panorama of happenings on the campus, ending in the queen section, which has not appeared in a Sentinel since 1941. Identities of the queens will not be disclosed until publication day. The candid section will also record how an MSU student's life has been changed by war conditions. The athletic section will retain essential pictures of players and action shots of games.

Many Novel Layouts

The new lithography process used in the yearbook has made possible many full-page photographs and novel layouts. All layouts and art work were student designed, the usual services of a professional artist being slashed by the budget. Another economizing feature is the complete use of student photography with the exception of club pictures and living group portraits.

Lithographed plates for the 1943 Sentinel are now being made at Buckee Mears Co. in St. Paul, Minn. The book is scheduled for printing about May 1.

Audrey Johnson, Red Lodge, is confined to St. Patrick's Hospital.

Interfraternity Council has ruled intramural baseball out this year due to a shortage of players, field maintenance problems and transportation difficulties, so softball claims the spring quarter intramural spotlight, and well it should.

Softball has none of the tenacity, excitement or fast action of hardball, none of the pitching duels, double plays or base steals, or has it? Last year a national softball tournament was staged; many University students played on city teams or in the state tournament; softball games crowded every vacant lot. Fans go for it. Players go for it. It must have something. It has.

Quick plays, double plays are just as frequent, batting placing your hits and swatting for distance is even more difficult than in regular baseball. Accelerated pitching with a revolving-arm delivery has changed the "boys' game" into a national sport.

Softball has become merely a tougher adaptation of baseball. The pitcher loses his overhand or sidearm speed for deception. The batter swings a smaller bat at a larger, softer target, and fielders fumble with a tricky, unpredictable ball. Infielders

Melby Will Attend Executive Council Meet in Helena

President Ernest O. Melby will leave Sunday for Helena where he will attend a meeting of the Executive Council Sunday evening. The Council is composed of the six presidents of the various units of the greater university and Miss Dorothy Green, acting executive secretary of the greater university.

President Melby will also attend a meeting of the Helena teacher's extension course.

have to expect the irregular bounce; outfielders find their throws falling short. Baserunners too must act faster to compensate for shorter hitting.

Rules are practically the same: you sneak off base, argue with the umpire and slide feet-first at the catcher, no holds barred when you head for home plate. You heckle the pitcher, razz the catcher and hit it where the fielders ain't.

All in all, it's a wartime version of the real McCoy. Softball requires less practice, less equipment, less maintenance work and has the blessing of a near location. Fans find it easy to attend. Players are recruited more easily. Softball really had its start on the campus three years ago due to its convenience, so, luring wartime, it should really boom. The 1943 intramural softball season should be a good one and the whole campus looks forward to its opening.

Brilliant ideas usually come out of clear skies. But this time, just to be different, I'll have by brainstorm out of "Gray skies, nothing but gray skies." As usual, with the ushering in of spring comes the digging out of gloves, balls, bats, and spikes (Ouch!) Every team is full of vigor, spirit, and HOPE! Yet, at the end of the season, every team except the winner has suffered disappointment in this later case.

Therefore, this week's column is dedicated to those six of the seven teams entered in league play that must fall back on laurels of other years to keep "the eyes of Montana U upon them."

Softball on the University campus got its start back in 1938. With three fraternity teams, two school, and two independent teams entered in league competition, the season proved highly successful. That was one year when the Foresters really gained something to crow about as they finished on top with a clean slate while their bitterest rivals, the Lawyers, failed to gain a victory in seven starts.

But fraternities began to rule the mound as the Phi Delt came through the next year to wallop the Business Ad school 12-2 for the cup. It was Ryan, Nugent, and Miller sparking the Phi Delt winning combination.

In 1940, Sigma Nu swatters put on a driving finish, whipping the Phi Delt 11-7; thus earning the right to meet Phi Sigma Kappa for the good "beer mug," the trophy to be presented by the Missoula Brewing company to the league champion. In what was proclaimed as the most thrilling game of the year, the Sigma Nu's eked out a run in the last inning to take home a 7-6 win and the trophy. The five errors committed on the losers' part made for their downfall.

Phi Delta Theta was the all-powerful again in '41. Winning seven straight games, the winners were a real powerhouse outfit as they amassed an impressive 83 runs to their opponents' 12. Ryan and DeGroot did the twirling for them that year.

Last year Sigma Nu took its turn of winning the cup as they again out-swatted the Phi Sig club 8-7 in a game several times stopped by the customary spring showers. If we go by previous records, it would rightly be the Phi Delt year to win the championship, BUT—!

Lieut. Ray Sorenson '42, visited the campus during a recent furlough. Lieutenant Sorenson has just completed officers' training at Quantico, Va. and is now on his way to Camp Elliott in San Diego, Calif.

Cullen Killed In Air Crash

Albert A. Cullen of Butte, former Grizzly track star, was one of four flyers killed in a mid-air collision at the central instructor's school at Randolph Field, Tex., last Tuesday.

Cullen was a member of the University track squad under Coach Harry Adams in 1939, 1940 and 1941 and ran the 440-yard dash, the low hurdles, and the mile relay.

News of his graduation from the Army's advanced flying school at Marfa, Tex., and his commissioning as a second lieutenant, was received here last month.

Morris Wants Rule Changes

(Continued from Page One) dent members be added to the group. All of these would be from schools outside of journalism. He also proposed that the Dean of the School of Journalism occupy a non-voting position as adviser.

According to the recommendation, the selection of the editors and business managers of the publications would be chosen from a list made up by senior class journalists. The list in turn would be referred to the journalism faculty for rating before being sent to Publications Board for action. This Board then would make its recommendations to Central Board.

Any person who did not receive his '41-42 Sentinel should check with the Student Union business office as soon as possible.

"Take care of Mom, and don't spot
my Arrow Shirts!"

You can always include Arrow Shirts among a man's favorite possessions, and why not? The special Mitoga fit, Sanforized label (which guarantees fabric shrinkage less than 1%), anchored buttons and the world-famous collar all contribute to a work of art in tailoring. The clean crisp feeling of a new Arrow shirt on your back is a lesson in morale. See your dealer today! Whites and fancies, $2.24, up.
